
"WE, THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES,—"

As decade after decade passes, we who live and prosper under the Constitution marvel more and more at the matchless wisdom, the almost prophetic vision of those early leaders of the nation who could devise a plan of government so perfect that it has endured basically unchanged for over a hundred and thirty years.

The story of the making of the Constitution and what it means to us is told in an absorbingly interesting manner in the latest of the Our Government stories now being issued by this Institution.

INTERESTING FACTS

105,799 Ford Cars and Trucks Retailed in December

Approximately the same number scheduled for delivery this month

What Does This Mean?

This volume of deliveries to actual owners is entirely unprecedented for this time of the year—

It has taxed the manufacturing ability of the Ford plants working at full capacity—

It indicates a volume of business during the rapidly approaching months of "heavy demand" which will be far beyond the maximum production schedule which the Ford Motor Company has set—

And that means a Ford plant to even more acute than the one which existed last Spring and Summer.

Dealers' stocks all over the country are low—there are no reserves to draw upon to meet the demands for delivery—

There is no way in which dealer reserves can be built up, as deliveries have been made to customers as fast as cars could be manufactured since last April.

The only way you can protect your desire to obtain prompt delivery of a Ford even at this time is to place your order immediately—

This emphasizes more strongly than anything we could possibly say the necessity of your making prompt arrangements with a Ford Dealer for the listing of your order, particularly if you are contemplating the purchase of a Ford Car or Truck for use this Spring or Summer.

We believe you are entitled to know these facts as they actually exist.

SEED CORN

Corn has been raised in this county for a longer period than any crop in the county can remember, and still it is raised at a loss by the majority of our farmers. I know this to be a fact because the average yield for the county is about 15 bushels per acre, and it casts about 25 bushels to raise an acre. From this we can see that something is radical wrong. Is it that our land is too thin to raise even 25 bushels per acre? It is true that some of our farmers plant corn on very thin land every year, and of course they cannot expect anything except a very small yield, but I do not think that the reduced yields with the majority of our farmers is caused by lack of a fertile soil. From my close observation it is brought about by one or more of the following causes: planting seed of inferior germination and low vitality, poor preparation of the seed bed, improper fertilization or poor cultivation.

Of the factors mentioned I believe that poor seed is one of the most if not the most important, since we cannot hope to make a good yield with poor germinating seed, even if all the other factors were made ideal. This being true, the first step to take to increase our yields is to select good seed to start with. There are three general methods of seed selection used in the county by a few of the farmers, but the majority of the farmers practice hardly any method of selection at all. Of course the best method to use is to select and mark in the field before the corn is cut; then you can observe the kind of stalk, location of ear on stalk, and the surrounding conditions under which the ear is produced. The second best method is to select the seed from the shocks. The second method to select your seed from the crib, but if your seed has not already been selected, this is the only method left for you this year. This method is much better than not making any selection at all, and the sooner it is made the more effective it will be. The main reason that it should be selected at once is that you will have more corn to select from, and too, you can test it before the busy season comes on and know when you plant it that you will have a fair chance of getting a good stand. I will publish in next week's paper an easy method of testing seed corn.

For Commissioner of Revenue

To my friends and the voters of Appomattox County:

I am glad to state that my health is improving and I hope as soon as the weather opens to be able to attend to the duties of my office as usual. I have engaged the services of Mr. James H. O'Brien, R. F. D. 3, Appomattox, Va., as my Deputy, who will assist me in my work, and I assure you, it will be done promptly and efficiently.

To set at rest the question of my candidacy, I wish to state here and now that I am a candidate to succeed myself as Commissioner of the Revenue, subject to the Democratic Primary to be held next August. While I may not be able to see and talk with you at your homes this Spring, as formerly, I trust to have that same friendly support you have heretofore given me which I have always appreciated more than I can tell you.

Your friend,

E. R. ABBITT

Growing Opium Instead Of Food

San Francisco, Feb. 10.—The curse of narcotic addiction has so tremendously increased throughout the world, but particularly in the United States, that Chinese in the provinces of Kiangsu and Yunnan have forsaken production of foodstuffs and are now growing opium poppies.

This information has been brought here by Mrs. Flavia Pereira, wife of a Shanghai banker, who has just arrived from the Orient.

"Strong and Well"

"I WISH you could know how much I am improved since taking the Cardui," writes Mrs. Nannie Brown, of Black Rock, Ark. "You wouldn't know me for the same weak invalid I was before I took it. At my . . . I had to keep off my feet or I would fall. I couldn't do my housework, and just got worse. I most as died be dead as living. Some one told my husband of Cardui. He got it for me and I took three bottles before I stopped—then off and on for the last three years just as a tonic. I saw a decided improvement after my first bottle. I used the three, and was able to do my work with ease, and now I sew for my family and for others. I am feeling fine, and strong and well."

Take Cardui! It may be just the medicine you need.

STATE NEWS BRIEFLY TOLD

The Latest Gleanings From All Over the State

THINGS SEEN AND HEARD

Petersburg.—Members of the local lodge of Odd Fellows are preparing to entertain five lodges from Richmond, one from Hopewell, and one from Chester sometime next month. A big banquet will be held, as well as speaking by prominent officers of the organization.

Charlottesville.—The Clermont Hotel, situated on West Main street, long Union Station, has been purchased by Eskridge Duke, for the sum of $51,000. It was bought a little over a year ago by C. L. Carver for $30,000. Mr. Duke is a direct lodge R. T. W. Duke and a member of the local bar.

Newport News.—John S. Wood and James E. Harvey, who recently held up the Langley Field pay car in Hampton and ran off with $43,000, an army captain and four privates, have been reduced from corporals to privates, and now are in the labor gang at Fortmonroe, using a pick and shovel under supervision of an armed guard.

Petersburg.—W. F. Douglas, 28, white, Ward, War Veteran, has disappeared from sight as though swallowed up by the earth. His employer, I. Reinach & Sons, reported his strange disappearance to the police and added that he had the man, who has a wife and two children living here on Harrison street.

Lynchburg.—The Lynchburg Laundry Company here is using 100,000 shells made during the World War for salted use, for soap, it was announced today. These instruments of war, were made for filling at Penniman, Va., they will be found in plow shares. The material is being used as scrap, with pig iron, for several purposes of the plow and pipe foundry.

Norfolk.—Another skirmish in the battle between the growers and consumers of milk, between dairy growers, those who have sold their products outside of the association, and those who have been sued by the Pabst, Grocers' Cooperative Company for delivery of peanuts, are to dissolve plans for delivery of milk and for generally bettering conditions under which the growers are working.

Fredericksburg.—Thousands of doves, known as the "mourning" variety, have recently collected on Charles A. Maddery's "Oakley" estate in Spotsylvania county, about twelve miles from this city, where they are being fed by Crimmond Payne, tenant. The doves are of grey color and have congregated in unusually large numbers. The reason for these birds, as fixed by the Federal migratory bird law, is from September 1 to December 15.

Tappahannock.—At a meeting of the Farmers Union, held here, the following resolution was adopted: "Resolved, by the citizens and taxpayers of Essex county in mass meeting assembled, heartily indorse the action of the Good Roads Association as appeared in the meeting at Roanoke in favor of each issue for the speedy building of our highways, and we request our delegate in Legislature do all he can in favor of same, at the special session of the Legislature."

Norfolk.—Charged with shooting at a police officer with intent to kill and carrying concealed weapons, Steve Barrett, a corporal attached to the sea school of the marine barracks in Portsmouth, was sent on to Corporation Court when given preliminary hearing in court. William H. Ryan, 19; Harry Munger, 21, and John J. McCarthy, three privates of the marine corps, charged with robbery of a mule box from a small boy, had colinnance charges added to their cases.

Lynchburg.—Land owners holding approximately 1,500 acres lying between the James River and Natural Bridge in the vicinity of Goonsboro, Bedford county, have had the property set apart as a game sanctuary, the arrangement having been made sometime ago between the State Department of Game and Inland Fisheries. The land included estate owned by Mrs. Mary Scott McDonald, Otis C. Jones, R. T. Tiller, D. H. and T. W. Oglesby, the Eagle Rock estate, owned by W. O., S. V. and M. C. Bell, and C. B. Blankenfeld. The lands have all been posted by the department and are patrolled by regular and special game wardens. Already hunting has been stopped on it. It is said to be the largest sanctuary in the State.

Petersburg.—Rev. G. C. Smith, pastor of West End Baptist Church, delivered an address at the Busy Men's dinner at the Y. M. C. A., when he spoke on "Poverty—Misfortune or Blessing?" He pointed out to the seventy-five business men present both sides of the question and urged them whether rich or poor to follow the teachings of the Master. The musical program for the evening consisted of a violin solo by Mrs. H. E. Wright, and a tenor solo by W. T. Clarke, with Wallace M. Rucker presided and introduced the speaker.

NEW HARDWARE STORE OPENS IN APPOMATTOX

On another page of this issue appears the announcement of the opening of a new hardware store in Appomattox to be known as Inge & Overstreet. This new store is located in the northern half of the new Odd building on the old Hundley property opposite the Appomattox Motor Co.

Willie D. Inge, of Appomattox, and W. M. Overstreet, formerly of Sherwyn, Va., are the members of this new retail hardware concern.

Appomattox is fooging to the front and offers attractive possibilities for service to the community. This is evidenced by the growth in the number of business houses in Appomattox within the past year.

COURT NEWS

In the case of J. T. Scruggs vs Commonwealth, which was carried to the Supreme Court of Virginia, a copy of the Supreme Courts order, affirming the judgment of the Circuit Court here, has been received and recorded in the Clerk's office here. The issue in this case was whether or not a Sheriff's search of premises, other than a man's dwelling without a search warrant, and evidence found in such search could be used in the trial of the accused. The Circuit Court permitted this evidence to go to the jury, and a conviction was secured, whereupon the case was appealed. The Supreme Court affirmed the action of the lower Court in this matter.

A Commission of Lunacy was summoned on the 11th inst by Justice E. E. Megginson, to inquire into the sanity of Mr. H. B. Totty, a respected farmer of near Vera, and Mr. Totty will be taken to the Western State Hospital for treatment.

BUCKINGHAM

Mr. Robert A. Hall finished up his marketing of tobacco Wednesday.

Mr. John Allen died at his home in James River Dist for the past week he had been confined with Pleurisy and had gotten out and then took cold which caused his death.

Buckingham and Appomattox farmers, those who have sold their products outside of the association, and those who have been sued by the Pabst, Grocers' Cooperative Company for delivery of peanuts, are to dissolve plans for delivery of milk and for generally bettering conditions under which the growers are working.

Mr. Lester Martin, and Miss Estelle Overton were married in Lynchburg, Saturday. We wish this young couple much happiness and prosperity, in their journey through life.

HON. S. L. FERGUSON ELECTED CHAIRMAN OF DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS

HON. SAMUEL L. FERGUSON

When it became known more than a year ago that the retirement of Senator George T. Rison from the Virginia Senate would involve the selection of his successor as Chairman of the Democratic caucus of that body, prominent mention was made of several members, especially among those who were older in point of service. But ony witnin the past few weeks, when it became certain that there would be an extra session of the legislature, has attention been focused on the selection of a man for this honor, which otherwise would have gone over until the regular session in 1924.

Within the past few weeks mention of the name of Senator Ferguson in this connection rapidly grew in favor and before the meeting of the caucus Tuesday night a majority of the democratic members had expressed themselves in his favor and his selection was unanimous.

While this choice is particularly gratifying to Mr. Ferguson's personal friends and admirers, it will also be regarded among democrats generally as most fitting, although somewhat contrary to precedent in the selection of a comparatively new member of the body.

Mr. Ferguson has long been a conspicious figure in party councils, and one of the most active and aggressive organizers, and workers. However, he has never sought political preferment, and it was only after he had in 1919 that he was induced to accept the democratic nomination for the senate from the 18th District to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Sands Gayle. His election was in the brief extra session of that year. Mr. Ferguson was the unanimous choice of his district, having been nominated and elected without opposition, notwithstanding the existence of a well organized opposition party. The distinguished and lamented Hal Flood, who had been Mr. Ferguson's law partner and friend, was heard to remark at the time that it would not be long before Sam Ferguson would be the recognized leader of the Virginia Senate. This prophesy made by the recognized party leader of the State was based on an intimate knowledge of Sam Ferguson and his capacity for leadership. That without seeking leadership, it would follow that he, who, actuated by patriotic motives and guided by sound, practical judgment, carried accomplishment as a watchword into every undertaking.

Mr. Flood, himself, was doubtless surprised, however, when Sam Ferguson, a new member of the Senate, and in face of precedent, was placed on the Steering Committee of that body—the committee that names all of the standing committees of the Senate.

While any member of the Senate might be sensible of the honor of being selected as caucus chairman, and would be deeply appreciative in a personal way of such a tribute, Mr. Ferguson's chief interest is found in the opportunity for service and achievement rather than honors' sake. Such a man rarely disappoints his friends and admirers.

LLOYD GEORGE ASKS RUHR INTERVENTION

United States Must Co-operate With British, He Tells House of Commons, in London.

LONDON.—The question of reparations and the Ruhr was the subject of a proposal to refer the matter in question to the League of Nations or to America. The debate came at the end of a long discussion, marked by Premier Lloyd George's speech in favor of the League of Nations' authority, which was attacked by Conservative members.

The Premier declared that the government differed from the French, but did not believe that any British interests of the interests of the world would be helped by taking up an attitude of hostility to France.

The premier declared that the government disliked the situation. He said that he believed the Germans had taken up their attitude of passive resistance because they realized that the sanctions were being imposed just for the sake of making payments which could not be met.

Bonar Law said that in his opinion France would now regard any intervention as an act of hostility.

France's military program in the Rhineland and Ruhr was assailed by Lloyd George in the course of his speech.

WORLD'S NEWS IN CONDENSED FORM

GRAFTON, Ill.—An explosion in a nitroglycerine factory here destroyed the entire plant. Loss estimates at $250,000.

PITTSBURGH.—"I am very glad to be with home and have mother," Roscoe Thaw said when asked how he felt to be free from the asylum, even temporarily. He is visiting his aged mother here for ten days, after which he must return to the State Hospital.

PITTSBURGH.—Five thousand miners, who have been on strike in the Glenlyon collieries of the Susquehanna Coal Company returned to work today.

MOSCOW.—Wars will be more frequent in the future and will cease as long as society is divided into classes, Nikolai Lenine, soviet premier, declared on the occasion of Washington's birthday.

ATLANTA.—National cotton conference for boll weevil control convened.

NEW YORK.—Voting 43 to 21 the National Republican Club adopted a resolution favoring the definition of intoxicating liquors so as to permit the manufacture, sale and importation of light wines and beer.

LUXOR.—Steel visitors to the inner tomb of King Tutankh-Amen, excavating past the entrance hall and chamber, have damaged the fragile texture of the shrine.

FARMERS SAVE MONEY HOME MIXING FERTILIZER

The farmers in Appomattox County, who are using home mixed fertilizers are saving money. Mr. Willie D. Inge, of Appomattox, who has been selling fertilizers for the past few years, has a saving of $7.65 per ton. The saving is made on the 2-8-2 grade of fertilizer. Mr. Inge says that the 2-8-2 grade is the most popular grade of fertilizer in our section. The Ammoniated materials were used in making the 2-8-2 grade of fertilizer mixed at home and the Ammoniated materials were used in making the 2-8-2 grade of fertilizer sold by Mr. Inge.

Whether you buy chemicals or mixed fertilizer or both should be paid, even if you have to borrow the money. Illustrate with 50 per cent Acid Phosphate. And be guided by the Ammoniated materials you are using. Don't be satisfied if you can't get 2-8-2 grade, but get the proper grade for your soil. Don't let anyone talk you into using a grade that is not suited to your soil. Don't let anyone talk you into using a grade that is not suited to your soil.
